B1 Incumbent / Training Minister Supervision Agreement

This course requires the incumbent / training minister to support the applicant with oversight, supervision, and by providing opportunities for reflection whilst gaining practical ministry experience. You should work with the applicant to draw up a written training agreement before the course starts. Please also ensure the PCC is supportive of the applicant (see section B3 below).

On completion of the course the written training agreement should be used to form the basis of a working ministry agreement which would then be subject to regular review.

Parish Guidelines for potential training and authorisation: what a PCC should ask as part of the discernment process for training as a lay pastoral minister:

The following questions are meant to be read in conjunction with the Recognising Lay Ministry guidelines on the Recognising Lay Ministry webpage ([Recognising Lay Ministry - Diocese of Canterbury \(canterburydiocese.org\)](http://Recognising Lay Ministry - Diocese of Canterbury (canterburydiocese.org)))

- ◇ Does this person have the character/temperament to carry out the role or task with a sense of service that arises from their discipleship?
- ◇ Does this person have the necessary gifts or skills for this particular role/task?
- ◇ Could they do it now?
- ◇ Could they do it with training? Eg. do they have the capacity but need particular skills? Do they have a skill set from another discipline or workplace, and need support transferring those to a different context?
- ◇ If they were to be affirmed by the PCC to engage in this role/task, what kind of authorisation or commissioning as a team would give this person the necessary affirmation to do the task/role, and the congregation to accept this ministry? E.g. authorisation or a simple affirmation to go ahead? Who is the person accountable to? Will they be part of a team?

B3 PCC Sponsorship

Training for Lay Ministry is provided by the Diocesan Mission and Ministry Team. As the sponsoring parish of this applicant you are agreeing to support them with the intention of authorising them for local pastoral ministry at the end of their training (unless the course is used as a refresher). For a PCC to authorise a person in such a representative ministry, they must be satisfied that, that person will perform their duties responsibly and with congregational support.
